THE AUDITORIUM.

A well balance of the August and trick does present a novel act in which he himself takes an active part. The does are marvels of canine intelligence and Mr. De Chaunts is a very clever equilibrist.

The man with many experiences, Joe Lannigan, will tell his troubles next week. He presents a character of a typical hard luck darkey after the style of the inimitable Bert Williams.

Conners and Edna in an original talking, singing and dancing act, introducing Miss Hazel Edna, the female baritone, who pussesses what might be called a freak voice, will keep the audience awake for fourteen minutes.

Dan Gracey and Ada B. Burnett present a laughable skit entitled The Rehearsal. This is an act tull of good TO THE BOARD OF COUNTY COM-

Dan Gracey and Ada B. Burnett present a laughable skit entitled The Rehearsal. This is an act full of good natured Irish comedy running at the rate of sixty laughs a minute.

Jillian Morrelle, who scored an immediate success with her rendering of illustrated and high class ballads, promises an attractive programme for the coming week.

WAIT PATIENTLY FOR HIM

Golf doth not bid thee wait.
To disappoint at last:
A golden promise fair and great.
In precept mold is cast.
Soon shall the morning gild.
The dark horizon's rim.
Thy heart's desire shall be fulfilled.
"Wait patiently for Him."

He doth not hid thee wait.
Like driftwood on the wave.
For fickle chance or fixed fate
To ruin or to save.
Thine eyes shall surely see—
No distant hope or dim—
The Lord thy Ged arise for thee,
"Wait patiently for Him."
—Frances Havergal

MARY MAGDALIENE.

Why wilt thou cast the roses from thice hair?

Nay, be thou all a rose—breath, lips,
and cheek.

Nay, not this house—that banquethouse we seek:
See how they kiss and enter; come thou
there.

This delicate day of love, we too will share.

Till at our ear love's whispering
night shall speak.

What, sweet one, hold'st thou sim
the foolish freak?

Nay, when I kiss thy feet they'll leave
the stair.

Oh loose me! See's thou not my Bridegroom's face
That draws me to Him? Por His feet my kiss.
My hair, my teers He craves today—
and oh!
What words can tell what other day
and place
Shill see me clasp those blood-stsined feet of His?
He needs me, calls me, loves me; let me go!
